CONSENT TO PUBLISH & TRANSFER OF COPYRIGHT

For the mutual benefit and protection of Authors and Publishers it is necessary that Authors provide formal written Consent to Publish and Transfer of Copyright before publication of the Work.

The signed Consent ensures that the Publisher has the Author's permission to publish the relevant Contribution.

The signed Transfer entitles the Publisher on behalf of the Author to protect the Contribution against unauthorised use and to authorise dissemination by means of offprints, legitimate photocopies, microform editions, reprints, translations, and secondary information sources such as abstracting and indexing services including databases.

The Publisher hereby requests the Author to complete and return this form promptly so as to ensure the proper conduct of business.

Title of Contribution: _____

Author(s): _____

1. The Author hereby assigns to the Publisher, and the Publisher hereby accepts, for the full period of copyright throughout the world and all renewals and extensions thereof the full copyright of the Contribution. This assignment includes, but by no way of limitation, the sole and exclusive right to publish, sell, give access to and license the use of the Contribution in all languages, in whole or in part, including any abridgement and substantial part thereof, in book form, in a database with other works and in any form, including, without limitation, mechanical, electronic and visual reproduction and publication, electronic storage and retrieval systems, including delivery of or giving access to the Contribution by internet, extranet and intranet and all other forms of electronic publication now known or hereinafter invented.

2. The Publisher confirms that the following rights are reserved to the Author:

- a. The right after publication to reproduce the Contribution free of charge, in whole or in part, in a compilation of the Author's own works in print, such as a collection of articles and/or lectures.
- b. The right after publication to quote the Contribution and/or build on the content of the Contribution, on the condition that this does not constitute a reproduction of the whole Contribution.

- c. The right to reproduce (if the offprint submitted to the Author consists of a PDF document) the Contribution in a limited number (50) of copies for the sole purpose of personal use and private practice.
- d. The right to use the Contribution on a password protected Intranet or Extranet
- e. The right to include the Contribution in a collection as an aid for lectures and presentations given by the Author, on the condition that the normal sales activities of the Publisher are not harmed.
- f. The right to make announcements of the Contribution public in relevant circles.
- g. All the intellectual and industrial property rights or any similar rights with respect to (the protection of) methods, processes, designs and models described in the Contribution.

The Author's right to reproduce the Contribution is subject to notifying the Publisher of the intent to do so and to ensuring that the publication of the Publisher is properly credited and that the following copyright notice is repeated verbatim: "reprinted from (name of publication, volume no., issue no., date of publication, and page range), with permission of Chase Cambria Company (Publishing) Ltd." For any other use the Author has to contact Chase Cambria Company (Publishing) Ltd. to obtain formal permission.

3. In the event of receiving any other request to reprint or translate all or part of the Contribution the Publisher shall endeavour to obtain the approval of the Author by (e)mail prior to giving any such permission.

4. The Author warrants and represents that the Contribution does not infringe upon any copyright or other right(s), and that it does not contain infringing, libellous, obscene or other unlawful matter, that he/she is the sole and exclusive owner of the rights herein conveyed to the Publisher, and that he/she has obtained the customary permission from the copyright owner of his/her legal representative whenever a passage from copyrighted material is quoted or a table or illustration from such material is used. The Author will indemnify the Publisher for, and hold the Publisher harmless from any loss, expense or damage occasioned by, any claim or suit by a third party for copyright infringement or arising out of any breach of the foregoing warranties as a result of publication of the Contribution. The Contribution shall be delivered to the Publisher free of copyright charges.

5. The Author guarantees that the Contribution to the Work has not been previously published elsewhere or that if it has been published in whole or in part, any permission necessary to publish it in the Work has been obtained and provided to Chase Cambria Company (Publishing) Ltd. together with a statement of the original copyright notice.

6. The Author declares that any person named as co-author of the contribution is aware of the fact and has agreed to being so named.

7. This agreement is governed by English law. Any dispute that may arise shall be brought before the applicable court in London.
